EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

YOU DON'T STEP INTO THE SAME RIVER TWICE: 'No man steps into the same river twice, for it's not the same river and he is not the same man.' This is the famous quote of the Greek philosopher of pre-Socratic times, Heraclitus who tells us that just as the waters of the river are ever flowing with new waters towards a destination, man's life too is forever in transience. As Ovid says, "A rolling stream - and streams - can never stay as wave is driven by wave, and each pursues the wave ahead." Nothing today is like yesterday, nor will it be like tomorrow. Life is a constant flux with new encounters of people, ideas, cataclysmic events, forever dynamic and volatile. Just as the waters of the river flow on gentle, placid and ruminative and then suddenly overcome by rapids that can cause a deluge, life too has its gentler, joyful aspects and then it's tragic outcomes.

What we know of other people is only what we remember of them as we knew them. And they have changed since then and at every meeting we are meeting a stranger - the eternal change in the seeming changelessness.

Each moment in an encounter is singular and unrepeatable and needs to be treasured for the value it delivers and the lessons we learn from a wide variety of people and occasions and our interactions. When we are aware of the transience of the moment and the brevity of our encounters, it heightens our experiences and broadens our exchanges. Life allows no revisions or second drafts and this could be distressing if we don't address the changes in our lives.

The takeaway from this is we must embrace change with all its opportunities and vulnerabilities and emerge as strong individuals. Just as the river comes down the mountaintop, meanders, changes course joins in with new waters and becomes resplendent, our lives too should become meaningful with change. To go back to Ovid "time flies on and follows follows/flies and follows/Always forever and new/What was before is left behind; what never was is now;/And every passing moment is renewed...

All things are destroyed and created every moment, all things give way, nothing remains. The Buddha taught that impermanence is the fact of life and the acceptance of the inherent uncertainty of life, the inevitability of moving on, ultimately liberates us.

Man uses massager on eyes, suffers lens dislocation

Wuhan: A man who frequently used a massage gun on his face and eyes had to undergo surgery after suffering lens dislocation and developing cataracts at the age of 42.

Luo, a fitness enthusiast from Wuhan, in Central China, purchased a battery-powered massage gun and decided to use it on his eyes as well. Due to his busy work schedule, Luo's eyes always felt tired and dry, so he thought that the massage gun would have the same effect on his eyes as it did on his muscles. He was wrong!

At first, Luo actually felt more relaxed, but after about a week, he noticed that his vision had become blurry. He panicked and went to the hospital where ophthalmologists diagnosed him with lens dislocation and cataracts.

13-year-old basketballer is 7'3" tall

Toronto: Clips of Canadian basketball phenom Jeremy Gohier, who at 13 years of age is already 7 feet and 3 inches tall, towering over his teenage opponents have been going viral online.

Jeremy Gohier is not your average 13-year-old. He is already considerably taller than the average NBA player (6-foot-6) so he usually makes short work of his teenage opponents, dunking on them with ease, blocking shots effortlessly, and moving around the court without anyone being able to stop him.

His athleticism and basketball skills are nothing to scoff at, but it is Jeremy's impressive frame that has everyone talking about him these days. In the video doing the rounds on social media, Gohier looks so dominant that you can't help but feel a bit bad for the kids having to play against him.

DASARA BEGINS

Dr. Hampana inaugurates Dasara Fest atop Chamundi Hill

Mysuru, Oct. 3 (BLU & BCT)- Veteran littérateur Dr. Hampa Nagarajaiah (Dr. Hampana) paid obeisance to Goddess Chamundeshwari and offered floral tributes to the idol at Chamundi Hill this morning, marking the commencement of 415th edition of 10-day Nada Habba Dasara. The elegantly adorned idol of Goddess Chamundeshwari was placed on a silver chariot.

As the rituals unfolded, Temple Chief Priest Dr. Shashishekar Dixit, chanted sacred mantras. The festivities, which kicked off today, will culminate with Jumboo Savari on Oct. 12.

'Hydro ganja' from Thailand to Kodagu

International drug network dismantled; seven arrested

3.31 kg hydroponically grown cannabis or 'hydro ganja' worth Rs. 3 crore seized

Kodagu Superintendent of Police K. Ramarajan addressing a press meet at his Office yesterday as other Police officials look on.

Mehroof Ravoof Nasiruddin Yahya Wajid Riyaz Akinas

Madikeri, Oct. 3 (PS&BCT)- The Kodagu District Police have dismantled an international drug trafficking network operating from Thailand, arresting seven individuals involved in smuggling hydroponically grown cannabis (ganja), commonly known as 'hydro ganja'.

Mohammad Anuf, a café owner from Kerala, based in Bangkok, collaborated with K.A. Mehroof-37 from Kerala's Kasaragod district and M.A. Ravoof-28 from Arji village in Kodagu district. Their plan involved transporting 'hydro ganja' by air to India and Dubai.

On Sept. 23, 2024, C.H. Yahya from Yedapala village in Kodagu was assigned the task of bringing 3 kg 31 grams of 'hydro ganja' from Bangkok to Kempegowda International Airport in Bengaluru, arriving at 11.30 pm. He managed to avoid detection by the Customs and Narcotics sleuths at the Airport.

Upon his arrival, Yahya was picked up by M.U. Nasiruddin-26 of Gundigere in Heggala village near Virajpet, along with M.N. Akinas-26 from Kunjila village, C.E. Wajid-26 from Betoli village — all from Kodagu district — and P.M. Riyaz-44 from Kallithea village, Kannur in Kerala.

They travelled in a Skoda car (KL-72-D-6697) to Kodagu district, where they checked in at Belliappa Residency in Gonikoppal.

While awaiting further instructions from Mehroof, the group planned to relocate from Gonikoppal to Madikeri to avoid arousing suspicion. However, they were intercepted by the Kodagu Police Department's District Crime Records Bureau (DCRB) sleuths.

The operation, based on a tip-off took place on Sept. 28 at 1 am near Ramya Service Station on Virajpet Road in Madikeri, resulting in the arrest of five suspects.

The Police seized 3 kg 31 grams of hydroponic cannabis valued at approximately Rs. 3 crore, along with the vehicle used for transportation. Another suspect, Ravoof, was arrested the same day at his residence in Bengaluru by another team from Kodagu.

On Sept. 29, the primary accused, Mehroof, was arrested at Kochi Airport while attempting to flee to Bangkok. This operation was coordinated with Ernakulam District SP Vaibhav Saxena and Kochi Airport Immigration Officer Krishnaraj.

This case is particularly significant, as hydroponic cannabis is more potent than regular cannabis and is priced significantly higher. It is cultivated using artificial lighting and grown in climate-controlled environments with water as the primary medium.

Kodagu Additional SP K.S. Sundar Raj, Madikeri Deputy Superintendent of Police Mahesh Kumar DCRB Inspector I.P. Medappa, Madikeri Town Circle Inspector P.K. Raju, Rural Inspector Anoop Madappa, Sub-Inspector Lokesh of the Madikeri Town Police Station, Napoklu Police Sub-Inspector Manjunath and staff Yogesh, Murali, Niranjan, Ravikumar and Sharath Rai were part of the operation.

Technical assistance was provided by District Police unit staff C.K. Rajesh and Praveen Kumar. Kodagu District Superintendent of Police (SP) K. Ramarajan commended the investigative teams for their tireless efforts over 72 hours to successfully crack this case.

Kodagu finally gets MRI scanning facility

Madikeri, Oct. 3 (PS&BCT)- In a significant advancement for the healthcare needs of Kodagu District, an MRI (Magnetic Resonance Imaging) machine was inaugurated in Madikeri on Sunday, fulfilling a long-standing demand from the local community.

This state-of-the-art facility is now operational at the teaching hospital of the Kodagu Institute of Medical Sciences (KIMS).

Minister for Medical Education Dr. Sharan Prakash Patil inaugurated the facility, alongside Madikeri MLA Manthar Gowda and Virajpet MLAA.S. Ponnanna.

Previously, residents of Kodagu had to travel to Mysuru, Bengaluru or Mangaluru to access MRI services, as no such diagnostic facility was available in any Government or private medical centre within the district.

Minister for Medical Education Dr. Sharan Prakash Patil inaugurating the MRI facility at KIMS in Madikeri on Sunday as MLA Manthar Gowda, Virajpet MLA A.S. Ponnanna and others look on.

The introduction of the MRI scanning facility at the teaching hospital will enable patients to receive crucial diagnostics right in Madikeri, streamlining their access to necessary medical treatment based on the reports generated.

Minister Patil said that this installation will significantly enhance the ability of patients to undergo essential MRI diagnostic tests locally. He also assured the establishment of a cardiac centre at the District Hospital in Madikeri under a Public-Private Partnership (PPP) model, emphasising the need for improved healthcare facilities in the hilly terrain of Kodagu.

The MRI equipment, initially sanctioned for another location, was relocated to Madikeri due to persistent advocacy from MLA Manthar Gowda. Additionally, Minister Patil confirmed that a proposal for Rs. 60 crore has been submitted to the State Government for the construction of a new building at the District Hospital, which is expected to receive approval soon.

Heritage Welcome Arches in shambles this Dasara

An eyesore

Mysuru, Oct. 3 (PM&BS)- The City of Palaces Mysuru, which is decked up for Dasara festival that began today, offers a varied look. While the prominent Circles and Junctions in the heart of the city are shining bright with a fresh coat of paint and illumination, some of the heritage structures look jaded without any paint or restoration.

The welcome arches of prominent heritage buildings in the city include the structure in front of the Government Guest House in Nazarbad, which are in a dilapidated condition, with the local administration blatantly ignoring these structures of yore.

The iconic heritage Arch Gate of the heritage Government Guest House where VVIPs stay when visiting Mysuru.

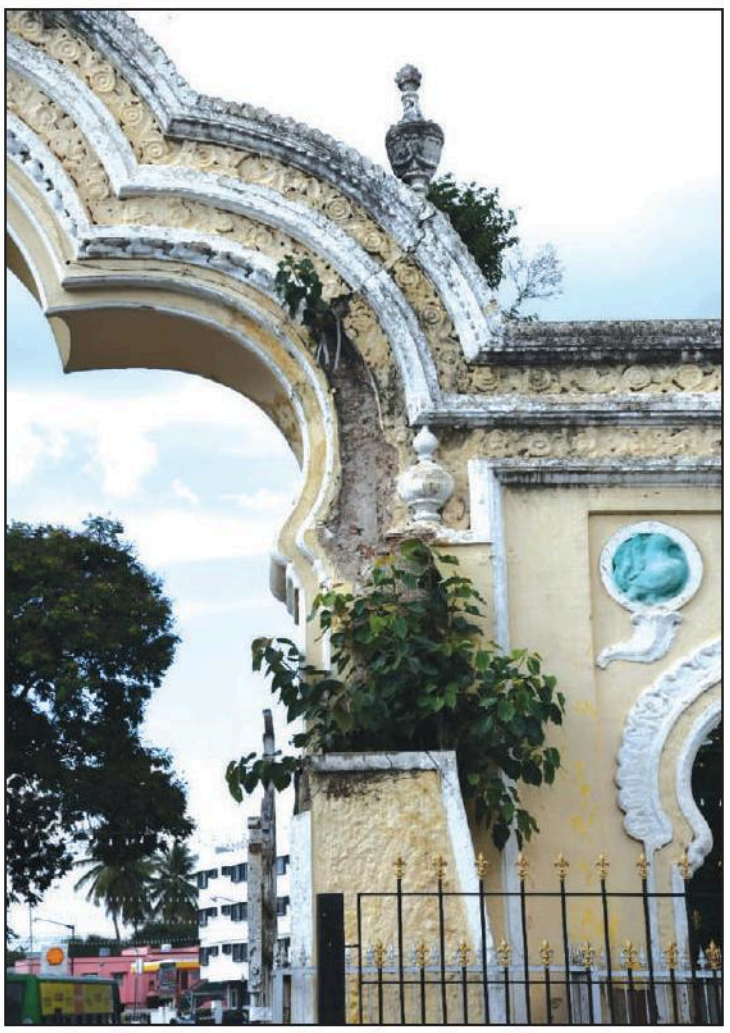
The damaged brick and mortar pillar of the gate.

Another pathetic sight of the crown of the arch gate which may collapse any time with plants and trees growing over it.

The Maharajas of Mysore built the Government House and its welcome arch gate so artistically that, the aesthetics of the structure with embossed carvings including floral designs, make for an interesting watch. The white paint on the top including the edges of intricate carvings have turned black, for the lack of maintenance over a period of time.

Fortunately, even amid continuous negligence, this heritage arch stands strong, that leaves one wondering, won't the structure last for posterity, if it is maintained with regular restoration works? If it happens, the coming generations too will be able to see the grandeur associated with heritage. But does the local administration have a sense of responsibility? The answer seems to be no. The weeds and shrubs can be seen occupying the naturally created cracks in the structure.

Similar is the state of welcome arches on Lalitha Mahal Road, Irwin Road near KSRTC Suburban Bus Station and also at Government Maharani's Women's College campus on JLB Road in the city. The arch near the Suburban Bus Station is protected by the barricades installed around the structure, but maintenance is zero.



The dilapidated condition of a portion of the arch gate.

The exhibition, organised by MPJA in association with Kannada and Culture Department, will be open for visitors from 10 am to 9 pm till Oct. 12. Over 150 photographs on different topics are put on display.

The photos shot from the lens of photo journalists working in several media houses are exhibited here. They include news photographs, Dasara elephants, Howdah elephants Arjuna, Balarama and Abhimanyu, Wayanad landslides, wildlife, Dasara festival, Jumboo Savari, Private Durbar at Palace, Chamundeshwari car festival among others.

MLAs G.T. Devegowda and K. Harishgowda, MLC Dr. D. Thimmaiah and Vice-Chairperson of State Guarantee Schemes Implementation Authority Dr. Pushpa Amarnath, who also went through the exhibits, lauded the photo journalists.

President of MPJA Pragathi Gopalakrishna presided. Joint Director of Kannada and Culture V.N. Mallikarjunaswamy, MPJA Vice-President S.R. Madhusudhan, General Secretary M.N. Lakshminarayana Yadav, Treasurer A. Nandan and Executive Committee Members M.A. Sriram, K.H. Chandru, Anurag Basavaraj, Hampa Nagaraj, S. VOICE OF THE READER

Avoid using plastic bottles during Jumboo Savari

Sir,

I have been watching the Jumboo Savari (Dasara procession) for many years, and I am very happy to notice that numerous people, through NGOs, Associations and individually, are involved in helping spectators by providing drinking water. It is truly a welcome gesture.

However, in recent years, it has been observed that many of them are using plastic water bottles. Once the procession is over, both sides of the road are littered with discarded bottles, creating a massive cleanup task for the Mysuru City Corporation workers the next day.

Last year, I noticed that only one group — if I remember correctly, it was Team Mysuru — provided water from tanks using glasses (cups). My request to all who are planning to distribute water this year is to adopt this method and help prevent plastic pollution, contributing to making our city a plastic-free-city.

Chief Minister Siddaramaiah's wife B.M. Parvathi has returned the 14 disputed sites to MUDA (Mysuru Urban Development Authority). A kind gesture indeed, but also... kinda pointless.

We are sure the family lawyers knew that returning the sites was a 'moot point', unless it was meant to evoke public sympathy for the CM.

As many have questioned: If a person steals something, can that act go unpunished just because they returned it? No, it cannot, because the punishment is for the act, not for how you react.

In the case of 14 MUDA sites, the legal process has begun and it will go on. What is interesting though is the CM's wife Parvathi's letter.

To begin, anyone should feel sympathetic towards Parvathi — a lady who has kept away from public life completely to now be dragged into this controversy and forced to write a public letter is unfortunate.

Parvathi wrote "I have lived with the commitment to ensure that nothing arises, either in politics or public life, that would cause him (husband) any embarrassment."

Like a good life-partner, Parvathi seems to feel guilty and terrible that her 14 sites have embarrassed her husband. But she should realise that it was not her fault at all.

First, it was the fault of the terrible advisers her husband and son have surrounded themselves with.

It is said that the advisers wanted to first get their leaders' finger in the honey pot so they could dig into it with both their hands.

The second fault was of her son MLC Dr. Yathindra Siddaramaiah, who was on the MUDA Board — as the Varuna MLA — when the 14 sites were allotted and he did nothing to stop it or refuse the sites.

Finally the CM himself who, instead of nipping it in the bud let his ego get the better of him as he thundered "our land value is Rs. 62 crore, let them give it back to us."

In the concluding part of her appeal, Parvathi wrote "I have a humble request for the leaders of all political parties and members of the media. Please refrain from dragging the women of political families, who are not involved in politics, into controversies for the sake of political vendettas and do not tarnish their dignity and honour."

We understand Parvathi's sentiments but today in India, members of political families are involved in politics and even the ones who are not in active politics are enjoying the fruits of ill-gotten wealth.

So, Indian media should start scrutinising the lifestyle and business deals of political family members like they do in England and USA, which they haven't done so far here.

One has to just take a stroll through Sadashivanagar in Bengaluru, an area where many politicians live and you'll be astonished by the opulent houses, the luxury cars and the lavish lifestyles.

Wouldn't it be nice to know how these public servants can afford such extravagance?

If politicians don't want their families to be dragged into controversies, then the head of such families should not commit acts that will expose them and their family to ridicule and public scrutiny.

This reminds us, in 2012, Narendra Modi had called Shashi Tharoor's then girlfriend and later wife Sunanda Pushkar as "50 crore girlfriend."

He made this statement after it was reported that she had got "sweat" equity worth 'Rs. 50 crore' in a Kochi IPL team.

Tharoor defended himself by saying he and Sunanda were two individuals, and she had been granted "sweat" equity for her expertise in event management. At that time, Sunanda was the Director of Sales at a real-estate company !

Tharoor, knowing very well that in matters of a mega-rich property like IPL, politics and controversies are in order, should have discouraged his wife from being involved, he didn't.

Finally, Sunanda had to defend herself publicly. Who put her in this vulnerable position? Her husband Shashi Tharoor.

Then who can forget Rabri Devi? Her husband Laloo Prasad Yadav plucked her from the kitchen and plopped her into the CM's seat.

As soon as she finished her maiden speech, which was less than one minute!, Opposition leader Sushil Modi attacked her husband.

Unable to take the vilification of her husband anymore Rabri, with all her strength, sternly stood up and made an emotional plea, calling Sushil Modi her "elder brother," desperate to put an end to the vilification of her husband.

Again, who put her in that vulnerable situation? Her husband Laloo Prasad Yadav.

Our leaders trot out their families only when they want to introduce their next political heir or when they need to score sympathy points during a scandal.

More recently we saw former Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal's wife Sunita Kejriwal and former Jharkhand CM Hemant Soren's wife Kalpana Soren make their political presence to save their husbands.

Now, if CM Siddaramaiah wants to leave a legacy of being a 'spotless' politician and if Yathindra wants to take away his mother's pain, then they must do what she says.

Parvathi has sought a comprehensive investigation into 'all' allegations of illegal site allotments in MUDA.

Listen to her and order an investigation. Let the rot be exposed.

P.S.: After speaking to legitimate sources in MUDA, I am sure that Siddaramaiah's 14 sites will pale before the hundreds of MUDA sites that have been looted by the members of other political parties.

We are sure, the moment CM orders investigation as his wife Parvathi has suggested, the call for his resignation from the Opposition will come to a stagnation.

Let's hope, the CM listens to his wife.

BADANAVALU: Where Gandhjii's legacy inspires a thriving khadi industry

Mysuru, Oct. 3 (BCT)- The rhythmic hum of spinning wheels — Charaka — still reverberates through the air in Badanavalu, a village in Nanjangud Taluk, Mysuru District, that etched its place in history during India's freedom struggle.

Sanctified by the footsteps of Mahatma Gandhi (whose 155th birth anniversary was celebrated yesterday), this humble village embraced his ideals and clung to its legacy of cottage industries, preserving them with pride to this day.

The soft, distant clatter of spinning wheels, tirelessly weaving Khadi threads, echoes through the fields. It was here, following Gandhi's two iconic visits in 1927 and 1934, that hundreds of women found empowerment, shaping their lives around the art of weaving Khadi.

Gandhi first arrived in 1927, amidst his fight against the Simon Commission. His visit to the Mysore kingdom brought him face-to-face with freedom fighter Tagadur Ramachandra Rao.

Beacon of self-reliance

Upon witnessing the Khadi and Village Industries Centre, established by the Maharaja of Mysore in Badanavalu, Gandhi's heart swelled with hope. His inspiration spurred the growth of more cottage industries, a movement that would transform the village into a beacon of self-reliance.

To commemorate Gandhi's visit, a stone was laid at the very spot he set foot, with the inscription 'Badanavalu Spinning Region.' This simple act sowed the seeds for the formation of the Badanavalu Khadi Village Industries Cooperative Society.

A stone dating back to 1927, etched with the image of a spinning wheel, still stands as a symbol of his presence. Under local leadership, a bust of Gandhi and a pavilion were erected, with a plaque proudly noting its inauguration by the then Chief Minister, Veerendra Patil.

A hub of rural industry

In 1934, Gandhi returned to the Mysore region as part of his donation campaign for the 'Harijan Sevak Sangh.' Seizing the moment, he revisited Badanavalu to check on the progress of the spinning centre he had once inspired.

Following Gandhi's initial visit, and with the enthusiastic backing of Maharaja of Mysore, Badanavalu blossomed into a hub of rural industry. Matchstick production, hand-made paper crafting, carpentry, blacksmithing, grain processing and making of puffed rice, beaten rice and fibre products were all successfully established.

Additionally, training for rural oil and fibre industries was introduced, creating a vibrant cottage economy that provided employment for around 500 villagers. Locals fondly recall Gandhi's delight at witnessing the thriving industries during his second visit, a testament to the enduring spirit of self-reliance he had instilled.

Government support

At present, the Khadi industry is the only operational enterprise at Badanavalu, with the centre now under the management of the Khadi and Village Industries Society from Holenarasipura, Hassan district.

Supported by Government incentives, the workers spinning Khadi garments earn Rs. 35 per piece, with an additional Rs. 3 for each spool of thread and Rs. 7 per metre of fabric as bonus wages from the Khadi and Village Industries Board.

On average, women earn between Rs. 150 to Rs. 200 per day, utilising their spare time after household chores to engage in this craft.

Sabarmati Ashram model

The centre, sprawling across 5 acres, is seeing a renewed focus on development. A compound wall is under construction and the Karnataka State Tourism Department, through KRIDL (Karnataka Rural Infrastructure Development Limited), is building a structure modelled after the Sabarmati Ashram. The project is well underway.

Plans are also in motion to transform the park into a tribute to Gandhi's legacy, with statues depicting his Dandi March and other figures emphasising village self-governance and self-reliance.

Meanwhile, the building erected in 1950 on the very spot where Gandhi addressed the villagers in 1927 has fallen into disrepair. Plans are underway to restore this historical structure, preserving it as a monument for future generations to remember and honour Gandhi's profound connection with the village.

Badanavalu village, nestled in Nanjangud taluk of Mysuru district, is strategically situated along the route from Nanjangud to Chamarajanagar, boasting robust road connectivity.

Earlier Narasambudhi

Notably, railway records refer to this village as Narasambudhi. According to the 2011 census, Badanavalu is home to 632 families, with a population totalling 2,784. While it once drew attention due to caste conflicts, today the village thrives in a spirit of communal harmony.

In his 2024-25 State Budget speech, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, a native of the Mysuru district, unveiled plans to enhance Khadi activities in Badanavalu — an area historically significant for its connection to Mahatma Gandhi.

He also proposed the development of the village as a National Memorial and a dedicated Development Committee has already been established to oversee this initiative.

The Badanavalu centre has attracted numerous dignitaries, including activist Medha Patkar political leaders, Ministers, elected representatives, and a host of film actors, all drawn by the village's rich heritage and ongoing development.

The original Kannada report, written by D. Ashok Kumar, Deputy Director, Department of Information and Public Relations, Mysuru, was sent to Star of Mysore to be published on the occasion of Gandhi Jayanti (Oct. 2).

Kuppanna Park beckons visitors

As part of this year's Dasara Flower Show at Kuppanna Park in Mysuru city, artist J. Umashankar, along with his team, has created stunning floral replicas of the Old Parliament House (picture above), Basavanna's Anubhava Mantapa and the Legislative Assembly Hall, all crafted from millions of flowers inside the huge Glass House in the park premises. Dutch Cut Roses, Kolkata Chrysanthemum, Orchids, Anthurium, Gypsy, Carnation and various other decorative flowers are used. The Flower Show, which was inaugurated today, will be open to visitors till Oct. 13 from 9 am to 8.30 pm. [Pics by M.N. Lakshminarayana Yadav]

A replica of Anubhava Mantapa, which holds historical significance as a 12th-century forum created by the revolutionary Basavanna, where saints from all religions convened to promote social reform and equality.

The teachings of Gautama Buddha showcased in the form of a Legislative Assembly (Praja Pratinidhi Sabhe), recreating the assembly hall with thousands of flowers conveying the spiritual and philosophical lessons from Buddha's time.

Floral replicas of Army Battle Tank, Nandi and ICC Cricket World Cup created in Kuppanna Park (also called Nishad Bagh) in city as part of Dasara Flower Show.

Dr. Hampana inaugurates Dasara atop Ch. Hill

The inauguration took place during the auspicious Vrishchika Lagna, between 9.15 am and 9.45 am, in the presence of Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, Deputy CM D.K. Shivakumar, Mysuru District Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa and a host of Cabinet Ministers, along with elected representatives and top Mysuru District officials. The event was chaired by Chamundeshwari MLA G.T. Devegowda.

In his inaugural address, Dr. Hampana highlighted how Mysuru has adorned itself for the Navaratri festival, revealing its beauty. "Mysuru and Dasara are inseparable. After the advent of democracy, Jumboo Savari gained wider recognition. While the festival's form changed, its essence remained. It's no longer just a Palace event but a celebration by the people's Government, with the same grandeur," he said.

He emphasised the festival's importance, where the Government and people unite to preserve local culture. "This festival offers future generations a glimpse of Karnataka's rich history, traditions, and identity," he added.

Dr. Hampana further remarked that elements like traditional music, dances, costumes and the grand Jumboo Savari aren't taught in schools. They immerse the younger generation in Karnataka's diverse cultural heritage.

In his address, Dy.CM D.K. Shivakumar emphasised strength of women, stating, "Women protect families and it is the female deities who safeguard Karnataka. Their power is the State's strength."

Dr. Hampana flanked by CM Siddaramaiah and Dy.CM D.K. Shivakumar.

Recalling this year's prayers for rain, he noted that both he and the CM offered Bagina to the State's four major dams after abundant rainfall. He highlighted the joy of farmers, adding, "With the blessings of Goddess Chamundeshwari, the people are happy."

Proud of the Dasara inaugural ceremony, Shivakumar said, "Last year, renowned musician Hamsalekha inaugurated Dasara, and this year it was inaugurated by eminent littérateur Dr. Hampana." He spoke of Navaratri's significance, saying, "I believe the power of Navadurga will bless the Government."

He paid tribute to the State's deities — from Chamundeshwari in Mysuru to Mookambika and Durga in the coastal region, Annamma in Bengaluru, and Banashankari in North Karnataka — before concluding with reflections on humanity, strength and Karnataka's cultural celebration.

The team of officers who were managing the event was led by Deputy Commissioner G. Lakshmikanth Reddy, who welcomed the dignitaries, Additional DC P. Shivaraju, DIGP (Southern Range) Dr. M.B. Boralingaiah, City Police Commissioner Seema Latkar, ZP CEO K.M. Gayathri, SP N. Vishnuvardhana and Sri Chamundeshwari Temple Development Authority Member-Secretary D. Roopa.

Bhanumathi & Manjunath conducted the programme. To mark the Dasara inauguration, Roopa read out Preamble of the Indian Constitution and all guests and the audience stood in respect.

Dr. Hampana shares childhood incident, sparking laughter

Mysuru, Oct. 3 (BLU&BCT)- Recalling a childhood incident, Dr. Hampana said, "Wrestling has always held a special place among Dasara's traditional practices. It's vital that such traditional sports continue to be encouraged. In the past, wrestling schools (Garadi Manes) were common across the State."

He reminisced about 1948 when he was a 6th-grade student in Mandya. "At the time, Mysuru's famous wrestler, Ustad Tiger Ramu, was very popular. Inspired by him, I started visiting a wrestling school, hoping to become a wrestler. I had curly hair back then, but Ustad Kalappa from the school pointed out that my form with curl hair wasn't proper," he recalled.

"I shaved my head and returned home, where my uncle scolded me, calling it inauspicious while my father was still alive. He forbade me from returning to the wrestling school. I sometimes wonder if a great wrestler was lost due to that incident," he said, eliciting laughter from the audience.

At the end of his speech, Dr. Hampana became emotional as he recalled how much he misses his wife, Dr. Kamala Hampana, who passed away in June this year. Known for her contributions to Jain literature, she was also an advocate for women's and Dalit Movements. "We spent decades together and her loss is deeply painful," he said, dedicating his Dasara inauguration to her memory.

Advocates peace, compassion, unity

Commending CM Siddaramaiah and Dy.CM D.K. Shivakumar for their resilience in the face of adversity, Dr. Hampana emphasised that life is an arena where one must stand firm.

"Gentleness is not weakness; everyone must have the strength to face challenges. I pray that the leaders of the Israel-Palestine and Russia-Ukraine conflicts show compassion and end the killing of innocents," he stated.

He urged, "Grant wisdom to parents to stop female infanticide. It's disheartening to see indifference from deities while the powerful oppress the weak. The obstruction of the Women's Reservation Bill in Parliament is lamentable, and it's shocking that girls are still threatened for attending school."

"Unemployment is a pressing issue causing despair among youth. Those who preserve Karnataka's land, language and culture are not criminals; they must be treated with respect," he added.

Concluding, he said, "We must prevent plots to topple democratically elected institutions. Burdening citizens with repeated elections is excessive; no political party can remain in power forever. I also pray for an end to the trend of mutual accusations and personal insults in the media, inspiring society to focus on nation-building through productive and progressive thoughts."

Siddaramaiah affirms his leadership amidst challenges in Dasara speech

Mysuru, Oct. 3 (BLU&BCT)- In a spirited address at the Dasara inauguration atop Chamundi Hill this morning, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah reaffirmed his commitment to leadership, stating, "I have been the Chief Minister for five years and I will continue to be the CM for the next five years as well." He emphasised his determination to lead the State, even in the face of many challenges, expressing confidence in people and blessings of Goddess Chamundeshwari.

Siddaramaiah humorously acknowledged a past defeat in the Chamundeshwari Constituency at the hands of MLA G.T. Devegowda, saying, "You once defeated me, but it was my own fault." Reflecting on his extensive political career, he noted, "I have been a part of Governments for 40 years without making any mistakes; otherwise, I wouldn't have lasted this long in politics."

"As long as the blessings of the people and the Goddess are with me, no one can do anything against me," he stated, laughing off the controversies surrounding him. He also extended thanks to MLA G.T. Devegowda for their shared political journey and for his support despite being from a different political party, emphasising that "truth will prevail."

Empty chairs greet dignitaries

Mysuru, Oct. 3 (BLU&DM)- Due to alleged extreme security measures and checks, empty chairs greeted the dignitaries as Nadoja Dr. Hampana inaugurated the 10-day Dasara-2024 festivities atop Chamundi Hill here this morning.

Though the District Administration had made seating arrangements for about 1,000 people by putting chairs in rows in front the dais, there were hardly a few people present for the inauguration, probably because of the strict measures of the District Administration in allowing local people to attend the event.

Many local people and others, who were denied entry for the inaugural event, were heard questioning whether this was a People's Dasara or a Dasara only for the officials and bureaucrats.

Let all those leaders who have FIRs resign: GTD

During his presidential address this morning, G.T. Devegowda (GTD), the MLA for the Chamundeshwari Constituency, surprised many as he publicly defended Siddaramaiah. The CM, Dy.CM D.K. Shivakumar, litterateur Dr. Hampana and numerous other dignitaries were present on the dais, listening intently to GTD's remarks.

"Siddaramaiah doesn't have to resign, as all leaders reside in glass houses. If Siddaramaiah, who has an FIR filed against him, is expected to resign, then all leaders with FIRs should follow suit. Has the Court or the Governor demanded his resignation?" GTD questioned, expressing frustration towards Union Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy.

He further asked, "Will Kumaraswamy resign on demand? Shouldn't a Central Minister behave responsibly?" This pointed criticism was aimed at Kumaraswamy, who also serves as the State JD(S) President. GTD continued by questioning legitimacy of the persistent calls for Siddaramaiah's resignation, asking, "Can Siddaramaiah, elected as CM with his party winning 136 seats, resign simply due to ongoing demands for his resignation?"

He also criticised TV channels for their repetitive coverage of FIR filings, particularly those related to crimes like rape and murder. "How long do they intend to broadcast news about the FIR filed by Lokayukta Police against Siddaramaiah and his family members? Let all those against whom FIRs have been filed step down," he challenged, emphasising the need for accountability among all leaders.

Cultural events for 2024-25

inaugurated at St. Philomena's College

Mysuru, Oct. 3 (KS)- The cultural programmes for the academic year 2024-25 was inaugurated at the indoor stadium of St. Philomena's Autonomous College in city recently.

Vidwan Sridhar Jain of 'Apthamithra fame' and Darshan, Assistant Choreographer from the Dasara Ambari Dance Academy, Mysuru, were the chief guests.

The event began with prayers, followed by the college anthem and the lighting of the lamp.

Vid. Sridhar Jain, in his address, stressed the importance of respecting parents and teachers. He encouraged students to assist financially weaker classmates and suggested that students contribute from their first salary towards such noble causes. He emphasised that honesty and hard work lead to success and advised students to reduce mobile phone usage and focus on studies.

After the felicitation of the chief guests, Rector Rev. Dr. Lourdu Prasad Joseph delivered a motivational speech, encouraging students not to limit themselves within the classroom but showcase their talents in other fields as well. He highlighted that humility, sacrifice and continuous learning were essential to achieve success.

The cultural events featured special dance by Darshan along with traditional Kerala dance among others.

Rector Rev. Dr. Lourdu Prasad Joseph, Administrator Rev. Fr. Gnanapragasam, Assistant Rector Rev. Fr. David Sagayaraj, Principal Dr. Ravi J.D. Saldanha, Vice-Principals Nagaraj Urs and Ronald Prakash Cutinha, IQAC Coordinator A. Narayana Hospital launches 24x7 free ambulance service

Mysuru, Oct. 3 (KS)- City's Narayana Hospital, as part of World Health Day, launched the Narayana Emergency Ambulance Response (NEAR) – a 24x7 ambulance service — designed to provide rapid, free transport of patients to Narayana Hospital.

To ensure timely access to specialised care, ambulances will be stationed at strategic points across the city.

The NEAR service offers free transport, ensuring patients are promptly shifted to Narayana Hospital during emergencies, allowing them to receive immediate and expert care.

Speaking after launching the service, Dr. M.N. Ravi, Clinical Director, Narayana Hospital, Mysuru, said "Emergencies demand fast and efficient response and the NEAR service ensures that patients are brought to Narayana Hospital without delay to receive life-saving interventions at the right time."

Dr. V. Keshav Murthy, Director, Department of Cardiology, Narayana Hospital, said "In cardiac and medical emergencies, reaching the right facility on time is critical. With NEAR, we aim to ensure that patients are brought directly to the Hospital where they can receive expert care without delay."

For NEAR Ambulance Service, contact Mob: 98539-98539 or 95139-99072.

Yaduveer ascends Golden Throne, holds Khas Durbar

Mysuru, Oct. 3 (MTY&BS)- Khas Durbar (Private Durbar) of Mysore Royal Family Member Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar began at the Durbar Hall of Mysore Palace this morning, as part of Navaratri.

Yaduveer Wadiyar, the MP of Mysuru-Kodagu Lok Sabha Constituency and Titular Head of erstwhile Mysore Royal Family, dressed in royal attire, ascended the Golden Throne.

Khas Durbar is conducted for 10-days till Vijayadashami, during which the Titular Head adorns the throne.

Aadyaveer in Peta

The members of the Royal Family, that included Yaduveer's mother Pramoda Devi Wadiyar, his wife Trishikha Kumari Wadiyar, son Aadyaveer Narasimharaja Wadiyar and relatives, watched the durbar, from the exclusive gallery. Aadyaveer, adorned with a traditional headgear for the first time, symbolised the inheritance of tradition.

Earlier, the rituals began with the tradition of Simha Jodane, fixing of lion face idol to Golden Throne, during the auspicious time between 5.45 am and 6.10 am at the main durbar hall.

It was followed by Kankana Dharane of Yaduveer between 7.45 am and 8.45 am at Chamundi Thotti.

Kanjan, the Dasara elephant performing the role of Pattada Aane for Khas Durbar and Bheema, the Pattada Nishaane Aane, Pattada Hasu and Pattada Kudure were brought in a procession to the Palace.

Yaduveer Wadiyar, who was in Savari Thotti, was ushered into the Durbar Hall by Kattigeyavaru, Jopadaru and Deevatigeyavaru, who hailed the Titular Head with bahuparak. This was followed by a series of rituals including Kalasha Puja performed between 11.30 am and 12.45 pm. Yaduveer ascended the throne and conducted the durbar, after circumambulating the throne thrice.

Prasada brought from the temple of Goddess Chamundeshwari at Chamundi Hill, Sri Ranganatha Swamy Temple at Srirangapatna, Cheluvanarayana Swamy temple at Melukote, Srikanteshwara Swamy temple at Nanjangud and 23 temples located within the Palace precincts were offered to Yaduveer and blessed by the battery of priests, along with chanting of vedic hymns.

The State Anthem of Wadiyars' Kayo Sri Gowri... was rendered, during which Yaduveer rose to stand on the throne and offered his salute.

Pada Puja by wife

Yaduveer later descended the throne and was taken towards Savari Thotti, where his wife Trishikha Kumari performed Pada Puja. The idol of presiding deity Chamundeshwari at the Palace was taken from Chamundi Thotti to Kannadi Thotti. Yaduveer paid his obeisance to the Goddess, marking the culmination of first day of the Private Durbar.

The highlight of Private Durbar was the rendition of late Maharaja Jayachamaraja Wadiyar's compositions, which was performed by Mysore Police Band.

Palace closed

In view of the rituals associated with Navaratri, the entry to Mysore Palace was closed for visitors till 2 pm.

Chaos at Dasara Food Mela

Single stall allotted to multiple vendors!

Mysuru, Oct. 3 (MK,GA&VNS)- All is not well at this year's Dasara Food Mela with vendors expressing their displeasure over the arrangements and allotment of stalls at the Maharaja's College Grounds. The vendors, who arrived at the food mela venue to set up their stalls, were in for a shock as their stalls were occupied by different vendors causing confusion.

Following this, Dasara Food Mela Working President Kantharaju had to face the wrath from the vendors, who gheroed the official seeking clarifications regarding the allotment of stalls. Later, the official arrived with the list of vendors who had done the payments and vacated those who had not completed the payments with the help of the Police personnel.

With the food mela set for the inauguration at 11.30 am this morning, only one stall 'Mulbagal Dosa Corner' was readied for Minister for Food and Civil Supplies K.H. Muniyappa to cut the ribbon. However, the inauguration did not take place as per the scheduled time.

Speaking to Star of Mysuru, Dasara Food Mela Deputy Special Officer and MUDA Commissioner A.N. Raghunandan said they were expecting a total of 118 stalls to be set up at venue for this year's food mela.

When asked about the reduction in the number of stalls from 200 to 118, Raghunandan said there was no reduction and that the allotment would be done depending on the demand from the vendors.

Sources said that Dasara Special Officer and Deputy Commissioner G. Lakshmikanth Reddy, who visited the venue on Tuesday, expressed his displeasure over the arrangements and instructed the officials to reduce the number of stalls to 100 with 50 vegetarian and 50 non-vegetarian stalls.

Earlier, instead of providing sufficient space for visitors to consume food, officials had also erected the stalls in the middle inviting strong objection from the Deputy Commissioner after which they were removed.

Sources further added that out of the total 100 stalls, only 35 vegetarian vendors and 15 non-vegetarian vendors had done the payment. The officials said that out of 230 applications received, 128 applications were approved by the Sub-Committee.

This year, the authorities are charging Rs. 88,500 including GST as rent from vendors selling non-vegetarian food and Rs. 59,000 with GST from vendors selling vegetarian food.

No separate space for Bamboo Biriyani

Every year, a dedicated space was allotted at the Bharat Scouts and Guides Grounds to the tribal community members to prepare delicacies such as Bamboo Biriyani and Bidrakki Payasa using firewood stoves to avoid inconvenience to other stalls. However, this year, the committee has not allotted a separate space for the tribal community members of prepare their delicacies.

Enforcement Case Information Report against CM Siddaramaiah

Complainant Snehamayi Krishna visits ED Office at Bengaluru

Bengaluru, Oct. 3 (BLU&DM)- Taking another step forward in his fight against the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) scam involving Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, Mysuru-based activist Snehamayi Krishna visited the ED (Enforcement Directorate) office in BMTC building, Shantinagar in Bengaluru, this morning to submit certain documents pertaining to the MUDA alternative sites allotment scam.

Krishna, the complainant who had petitioned the ED, was summoned by the probe agency to appear before it today (Oct. 3) in connection with the scam. The ED had registered an ECIR (Enforcement Case Information Report) against Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and others in the MUDA case.

Soon after he entered the ED office, Snehamayi Krishna underwent a security check, following which he was allowed inside. He met the ED authorities and answered several queries in connection with the case and submitted the documents sought by the ED in support of his claims, it is learnt.

MUDA 50:50 site allotment scam probe

Congress urges BJP and JD(S) leaders to return illegally got sites

Mysuru, Oct.3 (BLU&DM)- Alleging that several BJP and JD(S) leaders too have got sites illegally from MUDA as per 50:50 ratio scheme, KPCC Spokesperson M. Lakshmana has urged the Opposition leaders to return the sites within a week, just as the CM's wife B.M. Parvathi returned the 14 sites that were sanctioned to her by MUDA.

Addressing a press meet at the Institution of Engineers here yesterday, Lakshmana said that the Opposition BJP and JD(S) leaders had engaged in levelling allegations that a whopping 8,000 sites were illegally allotted by MUDA under the 50:50 scheme. Now that the CM's wife has returned the 14 sites to MUDA, the BJP and JD(S) leaders too should return the sites, he urged.

Alleging the hand of Union Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy in the ED registering a suo moto case against Chief Minister Siddaramaiah under PMLA (Prevention of Money Laundering Act), Lakshmana claimed that Kumaraswamy had written a letter to Union Home Minister Amit Shah seeking a Central Agency probe into MUDA scam. Based on this letter, the ED has registered a ECIR against the CM, he alleged adding that the tone of Kumaraswamy's letter to Shah was very much similar to the complaint filed by activist Snehamayi Krishna with the ED (Enforcement Directorate).

"The Opposition BJP and JD(S) have hatched a plot to oust Siddaramaiah as the CM by any means. Opposition leaders such as Kumaraswamy, Pralhad Joshi, B.Y. Vijayendra and R. Ashoka are directors and producers of the entire episode, while complainant Snehamayi Krishna is just an actor, playing to the whims and fancies of Opposition leaders," he said while wondering why the ED had registered an ECIR under the Money Laundering Act against Siddaramaiah, when there was no money transactions at all in the first place. He further said that the people need to understand why the ED has hastily and unnecessarily intervened in the MUDA scam.

Asking BJP MLA T.S. Srivatsa, BJP leader Raghu Kautilya and other Opposition leaders, who were making allegations against the CM and the Congress Government, day in and day out, to launch a campaign for return of illegal sites in possession of the Opposition leaders, he warned of staging a demonstration in front of the houses of these leaders if they do not return the sites at the earliest.

KPCC member Bhaskar, Party leaders M. Shivanna, Girish, B.M. Ramu and Mahesh were present at the press meet.
